

Public Schools

Educators, school children and parents throughout the land are this week celebrating Public Schools Week. Many, and well-deserved, are the compliments that have resounded in praise of our public education.

Unfortunately, however, there is another side to the story. In Spokane, Washington, National Education Association's President, Reuben T. Shaw, lamented: "The United States is farther from universal education, to which the public looks for preservation of the fundamental traditions of democracy, than it was 100 years ago."

Reason for this alarming remark is to be found in the fact that last week so many distress signals flew over U. S. schoolhouses that educators and twonspeople all over the country were gravely perturbed.

In Ohio, where the State school fund was $17,000,000 in the hole, several cities knew not how long they could keep schools open. School funds were low in Colorado, Michigan, Illinois, the Dakotas. The most desperate S. O. S. came from schools in Georgia and Pennsylvania.

Celebrate Public Schools Week Here

"One of the greatest mistakes that we as parents can make is assuming that the school can do the whole job of education," Professor Claude Shull, San Francisco junior college, told a capacity audience which thronged the auditorium of the Jefferson Union high school Tuesday evening.

Mr. Shull, a former Jefferson Union high school student, was the main speaker on a program given in honor of Public Schools Week. Inaugurated in San Francisco twenty years ago and now nation-wide in scope, Public Schools Week has for its aim the closer cooperation between educational centers and the community at large. Nearly one thousand persons were present to honor the occasion at the high school Tuesday night.

"Out of approximately 5,000 waking hours a year," the professor told the crowd, "the average time spent in school is 1,000 hours. In other words, the student is in the classroom only one hour out of every five."

Parents Responsible

Since parents themselves have the supervision of four out of every five hours of their children's time, Mr. Shull emphasized the responsibility of parents in providing modern youth with an adequate education. He reiterated the fact that formal knowledge alone is not sufficient to insure success in life, but must be coupled with right habits of living and qualities of character.

The greatest enemies of young people today in their path toward success, he said, are lack of responsibility, idleness and inability to get along with people. He suggested that the parents should help discover and develop constructive traits of character in young people to give them adequate equipment for modern life.

"The schools do a fine job of education," he said in conclusion, "but we as parents must work closely with them to give our children the well-rounded training that is necessary for them to achieve success."

Entertainment

Music and entertainment for the evening were furnished by the Jefferson Union high school. The program opened with a selection from "Tannhauser" played by the high school orchestra. The finished manner in which this famous score was interpreted would have done credit to older and more experienced musicians.

The two numbers offered by the high school's 40-voice capella choir, "The Lord's Prayer" and "Brother James' Air," also won the applause of every music-lover in the audience. Both orchestra and choir are under the direction of Oscar Busch.

A humorous play, "Yes Means No," was presented by the dramatics class under the direction of W. I. Hoppe. Students appearing in the production included Evan Gillespie, Charles Yonan, Gerald Robertson, Leon Fletcher, and Pearl Daly.

Following Mr. Shull's remarks, two vocal solos were given: "On the Road to Mandalay" by Bill Harkins, and "Smilin' Through" by Gerald Robertson.

Swing Band

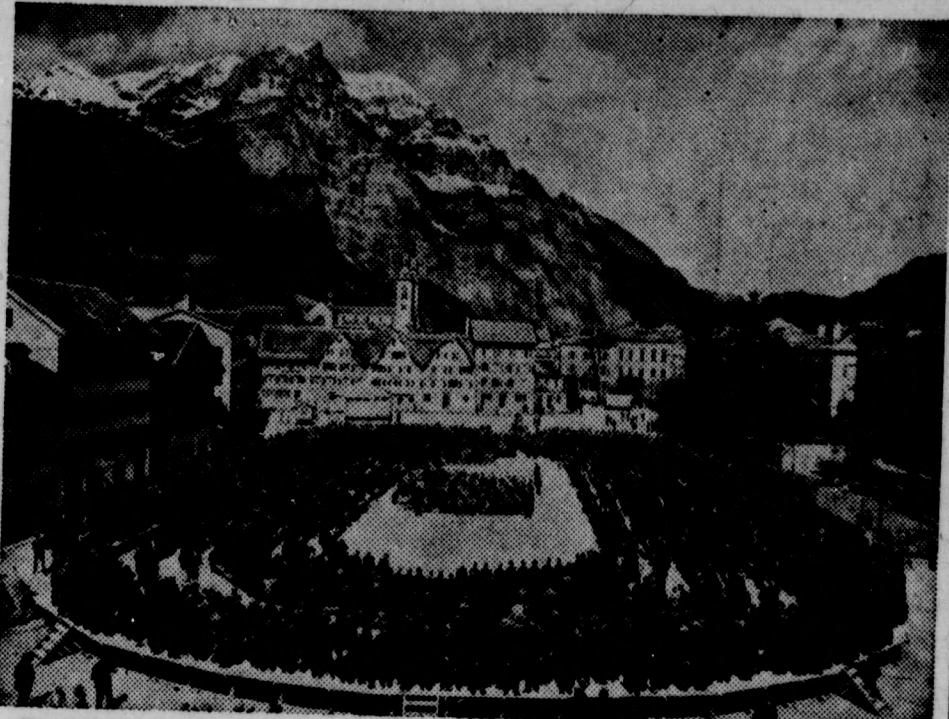

Concluding the program, the high school's famed swing band, "Indians of Rhythm," under the direction of their magnetic young leader, Dante P. Lembi, played tunes young and

Swiss Hold Unique Parliament

Hailed as a "living monument to an ideal form of democracy," the historic open-air parliament or Landsgemeinde will be held Sunday at Glarus, Switzerland. The parliament, at which all men of voting age meet to elect members of the canton's government, has been carried down from the Middle Ages. This picture was taken at last year's meeting.

To Observe Child Health Day On May 1

By proclamation of Governor Culbert L. Olson, California will join the nation's observance of Child Health Day, May 1, in a state-wide program under the direction of the State Department of Public Health. Dr. W. M. Dickie, state health director, announces that Dr. Ellen S. Stadtmuller, chief of the bureau of child hygiene, is California chairman cooperating with the Children's Bureau of the U. S. Department of Labor.

The continued need of safeguarding the health of mothers and children will be emphasized in programs arranged in practically all counties by local committees. The day will be observed throughout the state with displays, exhibits, child health meetings and other activities planned by local groups.

Announcement of Child Health Day immediately follows a report of the State Department of Public Health revealing that the infant mortality rate in California was the lowest in history last year. There were only 43.8 deaths per thousand living births as compared with a death rate of 53.7 in 1937.

In San Mateo County

The nursing activities committee of the San Mateo County chapter, American Red Cross, is arranging an educational exhibit to be held on May 1 and 2 in honor of National Child Health Day. Infant clothing and equipment will be on view at 301 Baldwin avenue, San Mateo, from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. during these two days and a Red Cross Public Health Nurse will be in attendance to advise on individual needs and problems.

The Medical Advisory Committee, Dr. Jewel Booth, Dr. Norman Fox and Dr. H. H. Whitney, has approved the exhibit which will be arranged with a view to assisting members of all income groups to prepare the most adequate infant equipment within their budget allowance. "We are planning to make this exhibit attractive as well as educational," said Mrs. J. H. P. Howard, jr., chairman of the nursing activities committee, "and we shall be happy to see all those who are interested in infant welfare, which is an important part of our Public Health Nursing program."

Cow Palace Bill Before Committee

A bill providing for a $250,000 appropriation for the Visitation Valley livestock pavilion was before the senate finance committee Wednesday, after coming out of the agricultural committee without a recommendation.

Introduced by State Senator Jack Shelly of San Francisco, the bill would make available the $250,000 as a portion of the sponsor's share for a series of WPA projects under which the pavilion would be completed.

The total $1,138,949 WPA project was approved early this month by President Roosevelt, and now awaits the sponsor's fund. In addition to the $250,000, the San Francisco-San Mateo county joint agriculture district is seeking other funds from state sources, including $125,000 annually from the pari-mutuel take.

D. C. Record To Publish Two Papers

Plans for dedication of the new city hall, extensive home building, a move for more rapid transportation, improvements in public health and education—everywhere we see achievement and progress.

And the Daly City Record is not lagging behind. Next week with the inauguration of a full coverage shopping newspaper, The Record is taking a long stride forward in service to this community, to local merchants, and to thrifty housewives.

Published every Thursday, with a circulation of 4500, in Daly City and Colma, the shopper will augment The Record as a vehicle through which community programs and group interests can be announced to every resident. The new publication will give local business firms advantages of a medium which has never been available before in this field.

Packed with home features, fashion news, cartoons, stories, women's articles, and the popular Daly City Record activity calendar (which lists week by week programs of all local organizations and groups), the shopper is sure to make a smash hit with every reader.

Record On Tuesday

Starting next week regular publication of The Record will be changed from Thursday to Tuesday to clear the way for Thursday's shopper.

Streamlined in style, Tuesday's Record will introduce several new features including cartoons by Joe Jay, a "Mr. Improve It" column, and a bi-monthly survey of local building activities.

The Record will soon announce its annual summer swimming program for grammar school boys and girls. For only a one year paid-in-advance subscription any local grammar school pupil will be awarded weekly swims at the new high school pool during the entire summer vacation.

Assure Extension Of Junipero Serra

San Mateo county will have an additional $426,000 worth of highway added to its present system with the further extension of scenic Junipero Serra boulevard, it was announced Wednesday by Andrew J. Gallagher, president of the Joint Highway District No. 10.

Work on Section No. 4, which will extend the roadway from in back of Cypress Lawn to a point opposite Tanforan at Sneath road, San Bruno, was assured after a conference between members of the California Highway commission who met with President Gallagher and M. D. Johnson, advisory engineer of the project, in Sacramento.

State highway commissioners agreed to cooperate in extending the roadway and promised to appropriate $29,000 of state funds for construction work.

Cost Shared

San Mateo county will therefore benefit to the extent of $426,000 in new highway construction for which it will share with San Francisco county a combined construction expense of approximately $57,000.

Supervisor John A. Lynch of Burlingame, secretary of the Board of Directors of Joint Highway District No. 10, said that plans and specifications for Section No. 4 had been submitted and approved by state engineers and revealed the method whereby the work would be financed and continued.

Explains Financing

"It was proposed and agreed upon to have this work done through the cooperation of WPA forces. An estimate was submitted to WPA headquarters which included grading, construction of drainage structures and all other work with the exception of paving. Paving of this section, after grading, will be done under future contract, the engineer's estimate being $185,000," he said.

"Total costs involved in the extension of Section No. 4, is as follows: Estimated cost, $426,000. Federal funds will absorb 80 per cent of the total or some $340,000, while the sponsor (Joint Highway District No. 10) will share 20 per cent or $86,000; the state will cooperate to the extent of $29,000 which is 33 1-3 per cent of the sponsor's cost. San Mateo and San Francisco county will pay 15 per cent and 85 per cent of the balance, or $6,550 for San Mateo and $48,450 for San Francisco counties.

Council Votes 3-2 To Call For Bus Bids

Another step was taken in the advancement of Daly City's proposed bus system Monday night when the council voted 3-2 in favor of calling for bids on equipment. Councilman Jack Fahey voted "no" explaining that he would take no part in the plan until permits were granted to operate the system within San Francisco city limits.

To Post Notice

To Destroy All Weeds

"Notice to Destroy Weeds" cards will be posted in Daly City next week. A matter of routine annual business, the council passed a resolution on Monday evening ordering that weeds be destroyed.

Property owners must remove weeds along all streets, squares, lanes, alleys, avenues, courts, and places in the city, or city employees will do the work and weed abatement charges will be placed against property from which weeds are removed.

Chief Chesney

Calls Attention to Ball

"The time is drawing near," reminds Fire Chief A. P. Chesney, "for the fifth annual ball sponsored by Widows and Orphans association. This event deserves thorough local support, since during the five years of its existence the association has paid more than $2000 in death benefits to families of firemen. "We invite all local residents and their friends to attend the affair May 13 at Colombo hall."

Esther Hanel

Wins Tumbling Title

Daly City boasts another title holder in Esther Hanel, student at Woodrow Wilson school, who won the PAAU crown in girls tumbling, Saturday evening, at the Jewish Center, Presidio avenue and California street, San Francisco.

For the past six years Esther has been studying tumbling under the expert tutelage of Mel Myman, 1932 Olympic champion.

County Tax

Payments Are Normal

Although San Mateo county's 1938-39 tax charge soared to an unprecedented $3,185,233.58, the tax collection has been normal, according to Tax Collector Ambrose M. Sweeney. He reported that he collected $1,873,219.17 on the first installment, $1,106,049.53 on the second installment, leaving a delinquency of $205,965.88. He estimated the ultimate delinquency at between 5 and 6 per cent.

Third Annual Clean-Up Week To Start May 8

On May 8 Daly City will start its third annual clean-up week, according to Fred A. Collins, deputy health officer. Specific instruction to residents for their participation in the event will be delivered with May water bills.

"Last year's program received the support of the entire community, and all householders are invited to make this year's event another complete success," announced the health officer. His instructions are:

There will be free collection of rubbish on the days and places given on this schedule, if you follow these rules exactly.

1. Clean up ordinary rubbish from your basement and yard.
2. Put it in sacks, barrels, boxes, or other containers.
3. DO NOT put in any garbage or dirt, and DO NOT expect large and heavy things, such as trees or automobile bodies to be picked up. DO NOT put loose rubbish out.
4. Keep on your own grounds until the proper date.
5. Put containers of rubbish on sidewalk near curb, in front of your house at 8 a. m. on the proper day only, and it will be taken away free by the city trucks.

Trucks will call at the following places, only on the date mentioned:

May 8. Crocker Tract—all streets.

May 10. Hillcrest and Mission Tract, and Vista Grande Section—all streets.

May 12. Jefferson Park and Colma Section—all streets.

"I know nothing of the details of the plan," declared Councilman Edmund Cavanaugh, "and have had no cooperation in securing information. For that reason I decline to vote in favor of calling for bids."

In answer to these objections Mayor Paul G. Selmi explained that merely calling for bids obligated the council in no way, and furthermore he was confident that permits were forthcoming from San Francisco. In response to Councilman Cavanaugh, the mayor advised him that results of a transit survey were matters of public record and could, of course, be obtained by anyone.

Dedication Date

May 21 was set as the dedication date for the new city hall. The council rescinded former action which had set the date for June 4. Native Sons of the Golden West and Native Daughters of the Golden West are sponsoring dedication ceremonies.

As a matter of annual routine the council unanimously passed a resolution abating weeds.

Two Ordinances

Two ordinances to aid local builders were passed and ordered published by the board. One prohibited the entrance of buildings under construction and the second established street grades in the southern portion of Daly City.

Fire Company No. 4 Week-end at Boyes

Members of Company No. 4, Daly City Fire Department, enjoyed a pleasant outing last week-end at Boyes Springs. They stayed at the Jack Coleman home, which had been turned over to them for the occasion. Those present included Chief of Police A. L. Hilton, Fire Chief A. P. Chesney, Assistant Chief A. F. Bodien, Commissioner Jack Coleman, Captain Al Sundstrom, Lieutenant Vic Fenstermacher, and Comrades E. J. Cuneo, Jeff Lee, Fred Mather and Buster Davis.

The firemen left Daly City Saturday taking with them a quantity of food prepared by their wives. The evening meal in Boyes Springs, prepared by Head Cook A. J. Bodien, was in itself well worth the trip, according to the fire members.

After the dishes were washed, E. J. Cuneo, Company No. 4 "Caruso," led the group in community singing, until the objections of neighbors sent the firemen back indoors to complete the evening's celebration.

Chief of Police Barney Hilton demonstrated some new sleight-of-hand card tricks with a deck of 54 cards. Members liked the game so well that they made up a large purse and presented it to him.

Next morning the members were served their tomato juice in bed. Breakfast consisted of French toast, double-yolked eggs, and bacon, prepared by the head cook.

The afternoon was spent fishing at Cuttings Wharf. Barney Hilton won fresh honors by catching the only fish.

After consuming another large meal, all firemen returned home again Sunday evening, declaring that the trip had been an unqualified success.

Association Asks

County for Road Signs

A plan to draw attention of Peninsula travelers to coastside beaches was outlined at the meeting of the Western San Mateo County Progressive association at Nerli's place, Princeton-by-the-Sea, early this week.

Nearly fifty men and women attended the meeting presided over by George E. Dunn, Half Moon Bay publisher.

Dunn appointed a committee of six to contact the board of supervisors to have approximately twenty signs erected on the Bayshore, El Camino, Skyline and Ocean Shore highways directing traffic to the beaches.

Dunn was also empowered to appoint an executive committee to act upon matters that come up between meetings. He will appoint the committee before the next meeting.

J. Edgar Hoover Explains Work

J. Edgar Hoover, Chief of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, and Representative Jack Anderson of California—just after their interview on the work of the F. B. I.

J. Edgar Hoover Outlines Nation's Crime Problem

The Nation's crime problem and what is being done by the Federal Bureau of Investigation were discussed by Representative Jack Anderson and J. Edgar Hoover, head of the F. B. I., in a transcribed radio broadcast last night, Thursday, April 27.

In this series of broadcasts for bringing to his district information on interesting activities in the Nation's Capitol, of which Thursday night's program was the sixth, Anderson revealed through an interview with J. Edgar Hoover, the nation's "top G-Man," the wide ramifications of the bureau's organization and its program of cooperation with local and state law enforcement agencies.

Careful Selection

The bureau's efficiency, Mr. Hoover told Jack Anderson, is due to the careful selection of personnel. F. B. I. agents have come from 36 different types of business, 19 different industries, 38 various trades and 21 professions and sciences. Being employed only after rigid examination, the agents must go through a rigid training in scientific crime detection, investigation technique, criminal law, fingerprinting, etc., before they become operatives.

Answering Representative Anderson's query on fingerprinting, Hoover stated that 5000 finger prints are received at the bureau headquarters every day from some 10,000 law enforcement agencies over the country. This work of the bureau's Identification Division is extremely valuable in apprehending and identifying criminals.

Youth and Crime

Youth crime, advises Mr. Hoover, is a matter of long concern but now there is encouragement in the fact that youthful psychology is changing. Boys now play policemen and "G" men instead of Dillinger and bank robbers.

The cost of the F. B. I. for the last fiscal year was $6,200,000. In return for this, activities of the special agents have netted $47,000,000 in savings to the government, fines imposed and property recovered.

California was praised by Hoover for the State's 334 law enforcement agencies cooperating with the F. B. I.

Representative Anderson will give another broadcast in two weeks dealing with affairs in Washington.

Mrs. Mary Coen, Winchester street, spent Tuesday evening visiting her niece, Mrs. Marian Mahoney, in San Francisco.

Mr. and Mrs. Clio Curry and children, Kenneth and Donna, who had been making their home in Los Angeles have moved to Oakland. Mrs. Curry is the daughter of Mrs. Louise Williams and twin sister of Grant Williams of the Nut Shop, 1 Wellington avenue.

Federal Theater Project Makes Impressive Record in San Francisco

One of the most impressive records in San Francisco's theatrical history in many years has been made by the Federal Theatre project here, according to figures released today by project officials.

The record shows a tremendous increase in the popularity of the Federal Theatre, reckoned in attendance and admissions collected.

Appoint Showman

In January, 1937, William Lawson, California Administrator for the WPA, and Mrs. Hallie Flanagan, National Director for the Federal Theatre project, appointed Charles P. Teevin, veteran showman of 35 years experience in all branches of the theatrical profession to the post of Supervisor of the Northern California project.

This placed the undertaking on a real professional basis.

An audit at the end of 1937 brought out facts and figures of great interest to Mr. and Mrs. Taxpayer: attendance has been increased by 38 per cent and admissions collected had gained by 28 per cent.

The project was in constant operation and, in the hands of a professional showman, on a much sounder basis.

Audit Shows Gain

An audit at the end of 1938 showed a gain of 128 per cent in attendance and 90 per cent in admissions collected over the amazing record of 1937.

The San Francisco project was now almost ready to carry its own weight in providing the necessary funds to defray the cost of all operating expenditures other than actual labor expense.

An audit at the end of the first three-month period for 1939 shows an added increase in attendance of 112 per cent and the huge increase of 495 per cent in money collected at the boxoffice over the same period of time in 1937.

This was an increase of 125 per cent in attendance and 2709 per cent in money collected for the same period of time during 1936.

Larger Scale Now

During the period from January, 1937 to March 31, 1939, the Federal Theatre project has produced 53 shows, performed to an audience of 494,533 persons, provided free performances for more than 100,000 underprivileged children and persons in hospitals, asylums, schools and camps, has travelled nearly 5000 miles in doing so and has now reached the point where it is operating on a much larger scale than ever before.

All operating expenses of any nature whatsoever, other than labor, are being paid out of admission funds collected at the box office.

In a little more than two years time the project has been moved into a completely-equipped theatre, the Alcazar, on O'Farrell street, where it operates as a complete theatrical unit; has kept 260 persons employed; has brought the work of many famous playwrights to San Francisco and has, with the sensational run of "Run Little Chillun," now in its fifteenth week, broken all theatre records for the past 10 years in this city.

Recreation Juniors Score Impressive Win

The newly-organized Daly City Recreation Juniors' baseball team opened its summer schedule by scoring an impressive 6-2 win over the Sons of Italy baseball team of San Francisco, in a game played Sunday, April 22, at Ocean View.

Although out-aged and out-sized, the juniors-outplayed the losers in every department of the game, according to spectators. It was predicted that in the future the team will prove a tough ball club to defeat.

Freddy Fazio pitched stellar ball for the winners, while Walt Christen led the hitters with 3 for 5 at bat. Don Menicucci served up the game with a robusting triple to deep center with two on base in the eighth inning to sew up the contest.

The Recreation Juniors were recently organized by the local recreation department of the WPA.

Players participating in the game Sunday were G. Byrne, R. Valenti, D. Menicucci, W. Christen, T. Mendola, N. Pezzola, T. Byrne, H. McGrath, F. Fazio and R. Bertini.

New Cowl Vent Solves Air Problem

Spring ventilation problems in automobiles—particularly in the rainy weather season—are solved very neatly in 1939 motor cars with the introduction of a new type cowl vent that can be kept open to provide adequate ventilation for car passengers even in the heaviest rainstorms.

This new cowl vent, which employs a special built-in trap to catch and drain off the rain, permits passengers in the 1939 De Soto to keep the windows closed and still get a constant supply of fresh air.

Takes In Air

When open, the cowl vent takes in air through a filtering element, which removes moisture and passes it off through a rubber hose drain. Thus fresh air can be continually brought into the car.

In addition to removing moisture, the filtering element in the De Soto cowl vent also takes dirt, dust and abrasive material out of the incoming air. A screen over the filtering element prevents the entrance of flying insects and bugs.

New Heater

This year the cowl vent makes possible the installation of a new De Soto heater with fresh air attachments. This new type heater constantly brings fresh air into the car for heating instead of heating and re-heating the stale air already in the car.

In addition to the new cowl vent, De Soto's 1939 ventilation system includes front door "butterfly" windows and rear quarter panels that allow a controlled circulation of fresh air for every occupant of the car. They swing out in a wide arc, permitting passengers to catch the currents of air and direct them into the car to suit their comfort.

Besides the ventilating wings, the rear half of the front door windows lower, providing full ventilation when desired, and clear, unobstructed vision.

New York Opens Exposition Amid Fanfare

The highly touted New York World's Fair, expected to draw several million visitors from all parts of the globe, will open in glorious fashion, Sunday, April 30, at its specially built home. Above artist's conception shows the completed fair with the Manhattan skyline in the background.

Youthful, Zestful Styling

The new Studebaker Champion coupe has youthful exterior lines and generous interior room for three passengers.

Troop No. 141 To Appear at Fair

Boy Scout Troop No. 141 will appear at the Golden Gate International Exposition in a demonstration of metallic art, according to an announcement received today. It is expected that the demonstration will take place early in June.

Troop No. 141 won a blue ribbon recently in the art of metal work pertaining to the Metal Work merit badge, and are well equipped to show Fair visitors the work being done in this field.

At the last regular meeting of the troop, a basic design was selected for making patrol tents, to which each individual patrol may add minor variations according to its tastes and traditions. The design provides for a shelter approximately the size of a pup tent, with wall, ground cloth and front in addition. It will also have ventilation ports and a novel device for elimination of the center pole nuisance. The boys plan to construct one of the new tents soon for a field trial.

Since the troop's third anniversary falls near Mother's day, it has been decided to celebrate both together on the second Friday in May. Troop, cub pack and parents will join in the affair. Details are to be announced later.

Be Sure To Obey Traffic Lights

The traffic light is a symbol of safety to pedestrians as well as motorists. To get its full measure of protection, obey the signals whether you are driving or on foot. The National Safety Council says that the average wait for a red light is about 15 seconds—but those 15 seconds often spell the difference between safety and suicide.

Many motorists and pedestrians are too liberal in their interpretation of what the injunction to wait really means. Webster defines WAIT—"To stay or rest in expectation; to remain in readiness stationary or inactive." Safe driving and walking habits demand an absolute stop and a patient wait for the green signal.

Protect yourself by obeying literally the traffic signal.

Broiled Steak---Favorite With Men

Beef Steak Ranks High in Popularity

New and Easy Way Of Broiling Insures Success

Always "tops" in favor with connoisseurs of good food, especially with men, is broiled steak. At all seasons and in all places it ranks high in the popularity parade.

Realizing that, the clever home-maker adds the art of broiling a steak to perfection to her list of accomplishments very early in her career. In fact it really should be among the "must" courses in a n y school for brides.

Not the least part of the appeal of a perfectly broiled steak is that it is an easy main dish about which to plan a dinner menu. It seems to give something of its own fine flavor to the foods served with it. A simple menu, for example, French fried potatoes, green beans and a combination salad of fresh vegetables, turns into a real feast when these foods accompany a sizzling hot, brown, tender steak.

Although broiling a steak is one of the tests of a cook's ability, fortunately it isn't hard and no one need fail. Here is the right way to do it, according to Inez S. Wilson, home economist.

Broiled Steak

Have sirloin, club, or porterhouse steak cut at least 1 inch thick. Thoroughly preheat broiler oven. Place the steak on the broiler rack at a sufficient distance from the source of the heat so that by the time it is browned on one side, it will be cooked half way through. Usually this is three inches, with the regulator turned high.

When one side of the steak is browned, season it with salt and pepper, turn and brown the other side. Then the steak is ready to serve at once.

Civic Progress

By Mayor Paul G. Selmi

May 21 has been definitely set for the dedication of our new city hall.

At present finishing work on the interior of the building is well underway, giving assurance that the project will be entirely completed b y May 21, 1939.

Plans for celebrating the completion of our fine new city hall are being formulated and all organizations are invited to lend their cooperation in making this one of the most impressive days ever witnessed in our city.

Progress is steadily being made toward the inauguration of our municipal transit system. At present the city is calling for bids on two modern busses to be used in our transportation system.

This step was taken in order that no unnecessary time might be lost in starting this venture. We are still waiting for some action from the City of San Francisco on our application for permission to operate our busses on their streets. After receiving this permit, operations will start just as soon as new busses can be delivered.

Present indications are that Tioga Pass, connecting Yosemite Valley with U. S. 395 at Mono Lake, will be opened about May 1. The date is dependent on weather conditions and heavy mountain storms might postpone the opening.

Christian Science Lesson-Sermon

Subject Will Be "Everlasting Punishment"

In all Christian Science churches, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts, a Lesson-Sermon will be read Sunday, April 30, on the subject "Everlasting Punishment."

The Golden Text will be: "Shall not the Judge of all the earth do right?" (Genesis 18:25). Bible selections will include the following passages from Matthew 3: 1, 11, 12: "In those days came John the Baptist, preaching in the wilderness of Judea, . . . I indeed baptize you with water unto repentance; but he that cometh after me is mightier than I, whose shoes I am not worthy to bear; he shall baptize you with the Holy Ghost, and with fire: Whose fan is in his hand, and he will thoroughly purge his floor, and gather his wheat into the garner; but he will burn up the chaff with unquenchable fire."

A passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, will also be included, which reads as follows: "It is 'easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle,' than for sinful beliefs to enter the kingdom of heaven, eternal harmony. Through repentance, spiritual baptism, and regeneration, mortals put off their material beliefs and false individuality. It is only a question of time when 'they shall all know Me (God), from the least of them unto the greatest' " (page 241).

Report Increase In Employment Over March, 1938

A further increase in industrial employment and payrolls was reported today by H. C. Carrasco, State Labor Commissioner. Reports from 2,000 manufacturing establishments showed that although the rise from February to March 1939 of two per cent in the number of workers, and eight per cent in total wages was less than the usual seasonal increase, the number of wage earners and the amount of payrolls was well above the level of March, 1938. Gains in total employment and payrolls for the month and for the year were reported in San Francisco and Los Angeles counties.

Airplane Factories

Airplane factories of the state again added to their working forces during March but employment remained below last year; the number of wage earners in shipbuilding plants during March was a third higher than a year ago. A small seasonal rise from February to March in canning and preserving was reported. Termination of a strike was responsible for a substantial increase from the previous month in employment and payrolls in the tires and rubber product group. On the other hand, strikes in the lumber industry and in the hardware groups accounted for the sharp declines in these classifications. In March the Movie industry employed about five per cent fewer workers than in February but the number was 19 per cent greater than a year ago when employment in the industry was unusually low.

In the non-manufacturing industries, increased employment and payrolls were reported by wholesale and retail trade firms indicating gains over a month ago as well as compared with March last year.

Hours and Earnings

The factory workers of the state were employed for an average of 37.9 hours per week during March and their weekly pay checks averaged $29.90. The average hourly rate for all manufacturing employees was 78.3 during March, 1939, compared with 78.9 cents in February, 1939, and 77.7 cents in March, 1938.

Set June 24 As "Boys' Day" At World's Fair

Every boy will be a king on Treasure Island, June 24.

Officials of the California Commission for the Golden Gate International Exposition have announced that Governor Culbert L. Olson has officially proclaimed that date as "Boys' Day" at the World's Fair of the West.

Governor's Letter

Notification of the proclamation was sent to President Leland W. Cutler of the Exposition in a letter as follows:

"I have received a number of requests that a Boys' Day be set aside during the summer vacation for boys at the fair.

"I am designating, by proclamation, Saturday, June 24, as Boys' Day on Treasure Island.

"It would seem fitting that on this day the Exposition company reduce admission for boys to a nominal fee, so that they may enjoy the exhibits from the educational and recreational value therein contained.

"Your wholehearted cooperation in this matter will be sincerely appreciated."

Cutler's Reply

President Cutler, starting the machinery for an elaborate celebration, replied as follows:

"Responsive to your letter of March 29 regarding the requests we have had that a 'Boys' Day' be set aside, and your designation of June 24 as Boys' Day at the Exposition:

"I am glad to inform you that we have officially designated this date as Boys' Day and that the admission on this day will be ten cents for children under twelve years of age."

Meanwhile, the Exposition's Special Events department, directed by Renwick G. Congdon, and the California Commission's Special Events department, headed by James G. Smyth, were busily planning a detailed program to make Boys' Day one of the biggest of the year on Treasure Island.

SM Jaysee Plans All-College Picnic

An all-college picnic is being planned by the San Mateo junior college for May 12. It will be followed by a barn dance in the college gym.

A plum tree that started life on the Gobi desert is now in bloom on the junior college grounds. The four-foot tree is blooming for the first time since it was brought to America as a sapling by an American expedition which gave the tree to the college.

The junior college sports teams have been having a winning streak. The track men defeated Modesto Jaysee 67½-54½, with Les Steers of San Mateo taking three firsts; the high jump at 6 feet, 7 ¾ inches, the javelin at 193 feet, 3 inches, and the high hurdles. The baseball team won from Salinas in two league games, while the tennis team defeated Menlo jaysee in a league match, and the golf squad set back Menlo, Stockton, as jaysee opponents, and Pomona college. The Matetan swimmers won from Menlo, while the badminton players defeated Marin jaysee.

John H. Oakie, executive secretary of the Institute of Pacific Relations, spoke on "Where do the Philippines Fit into Our Policy in the Orient?" at the Peninsula Forum Monday evening at the college.

The college and adult center will sponsor another public tour of the historic and scenic spots of the county in May. The trip will resemble that taken last year by several hundreds of people. Information regarding it can be obtained at the college office.

Colonel C. N. Kirkbride, who started the first San Mateo newspaper 50 years ago when the town had a population of a thousand, talked before the college journalism classes recently. He told of his interest in news from the Coastside, and of the support the Half Moon Bay and Pescadero people gave to his paper.

In the "Masterpieces of Art" Museum at the New York World's Fair 1939, the order of the rooms will follow the historical sequence of art development from the Middle Ages through the Renaissance and Baroque periods to the Eighteenth and Nineteenth centuries.

The Academy of Sports of the New York World's Fair 1939 will contain the most complete museum of athletics ever assembled. Among the famous trophies to be shown will be the Davis Cup in tennis, the Wightman Cup in women's tennis, the Walker Cup in golf, the Captain's Cup of the All-American Football Board, the Little Brown Jug of gridiron fame, Babe Ruth's No. 3 uniform, a piece of the Yale fence and the heavyweight championship belts worn by Tunney, Dempsey, Brad-dock and others.

Popular Act at Folk Festival

Singing game players from Nashville, Tennessee, led by Fred W. Colby, are one of the most popular features of the sixth annual national folk festival, which opened yesterday (Thursday) at Washington, D. C. The yearly program is designed to encourage American folk music, plays, dances, legends and exhibitions of folk arts and crafts.

Plan School Safety Patrol Day

Thousands of boys and girls from all parts of California and from neighboring states will take part in a great mass demonstration of the School Safety Patrol movement on Friday, May 19, at the Golden Gate International Exposition. The day has been designated School Safety Patrol Day at Treasure Island by arrangements between exposition officials and the California State Automobile association, sponsor of the Patrol movement. Police and school authorities, parent-teacher groups and various civic organizations are actively working to make the day a success.

Delegations of Patrol members from schools all over the West are expected to swell the total gathering of young safety workers to more than 12,000. A parade and review on the island and special entertainment for the patrol will be presented.

Woodrow Wilson Pupils Attend Fair

Woodrow Wilson was again the fortunate school to receive both the first and second prize in the American Legion Auxiliary contest on "Why Strong National Defense is Essential to Enduring Peace." Laurine Sandys, low eighth grade student won the first prize of a lovely pen and pencil set, while Wilda Heath, high eighth grade student won a pencil as second prize. This term, Woodrow Wilson has been the one school in Jefferson district to win all the prizes in every American Legion Auxiliary Essay contest it entered. Teachers and students alike are very proud of this record.

Day at Fair

The high eighth grade of the Woodrow Wilson elementary school are spending an educational, as well as enjoyable, day at "Treasure Island" today (Friday). Supervised by Miss Tobias, principal, and Mrs. Corral, art supervisor, the students were familiarized with the plan for the day by being given a well organized typewritten itinerary for the day's trip. A complete loop will be made of the island with visits to the model homes, Homes and Gardens, Agriculture hall, the California Group of Buildings, the Federal Building, the Latin-American buildings, Vacationland, Electricity and Communication, and the Hall of Science. These buildings were particularly decided upon so that they would integrate with the curriculum subjects social science, art, hygiene, arithmetic, and reading.

Bayshore PTA Hear Report on Convention

Bayshore P. T. A. sent the following delegates to seventeenth district convention, April 20-21: Mrs. Jessie Ford, Mrs. Sadie Franzine, Mrs. Emma Percival, Mrs. Emily Shaw, Mrs. Berta Hughes, and Mrs. Idaho Gaines. These delegates brought back a very enthusiastic report, having enjoyed both sessions.

Bayshore was very proud to receive the second award for a student poster, which was made by Miss Bernice Shaw. Miss Betty Hopper and Arthur Knight also submitted posters which were on display at the convention.

The unit also received a program award of merit and a certificate of honorable mention on the Publicity Book with special mention of the Inside Publicity; much credit for which is due to Mrs. Leta Riley, art chairman.

Seventeenth district received a State award for magazines and the winning chairman received a free trip to the State convention in Santa Barbara.

The installation of officers for seventeenth district will be held at the May meeting, to which all Bayshore members are invited.

Prof Predicts Baldness For All

Men will continue to be bald as long as evolution continues along present trends, declares Dr. Robert Rhodes, biology instructor at San Jose State college.

In fact, the young educator would go so far as to agree that bald-headed men of today are at least 5000 years ahead of their time.

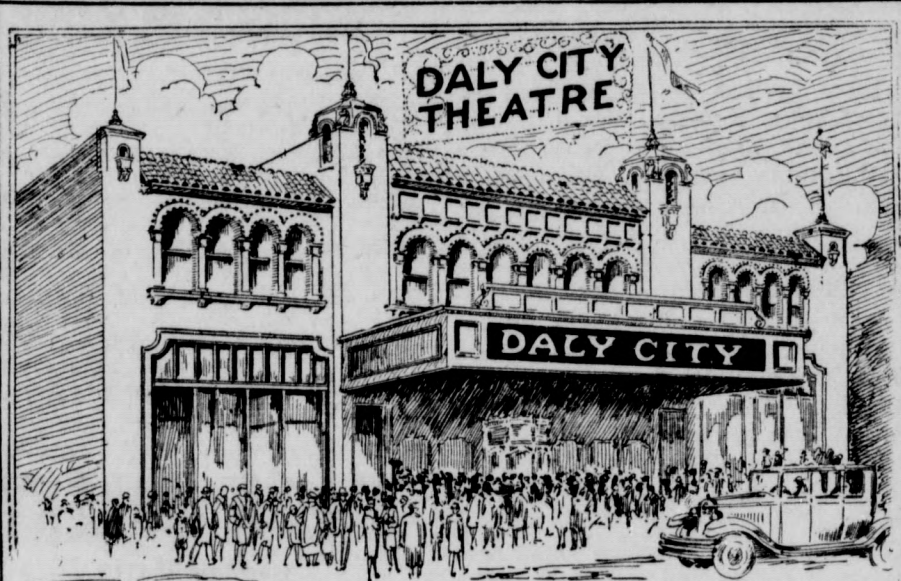

"Baldness is much more frequent among the highly civilized races of the world than among primitive people," he pointed out. "A bald-headed Indian is almost as strange as one with a full beard. Similarly, you would have great difficulty in finding one among other primitive tribes of our world today."

In contrast to this, many men of our culture are well on the way to baldness at the age of thirty, Dr. Rhodes said. As a result, men of the distant future will perhaps be entirely without hair. A bald statement indeed, he admits!

Although time will see man's hair gradually vanish from the head, his face (alas) will continue to be bearded, the professor figures.

Men students were heard to moan, after the disheartening lecture: "It ought to be the other way around."

Further improvement on the scenic Oregon coast highway is scheduled for the near future. The highway through Brookings is to be straightened and improved by elimination of two curves. While work has not yet started, it is planned for the near future.

Floral Expedition Meets Adventure In South America

Visitors to the Golden Gate International Exposition who view the University of California's display of South American flowers in the Court of the States and around the horticultural building in the late spring and summer will not associate these exotic blooms with such things as earthquakes and fierce Indian tribes. Yet all of these were encountered by the University's botanical expedition to the Southern Andes, which is about to return to the United States after nearly a year of collecting and floral exploration for the Exposition, the University and the associated garden clubs of the state, which helped finance the venture.

With approximately 30,000 flower and plant specimens and about 1,000 seed collections already sent here, and many more to come, the expedition, which is under the direction of Dr. T. Harper Goodspeed, director of the University's botanical gardens, has had great success. On the side of unscheduled adventure, a number of the members of the party went through the catastrophic Chilean earthquake of January 24, but all were unharmed. Dr. Goodspeed's bed in a hotel in Valpariso was so severely shaken that he could not arise, and one member of the expedition, J. L. Morrison of Oakland, headed one of the quake relief parties.

Other expedition members encountered members of the wild Chunchu Indian tribe of the large "Montana" or eastern Peruvian rain forest, who had come to the fringe of this jungle to trade with the white explorers. Many white men have gone into this jungle, never to return. Others who returned told of frightful atrocities committed against them by the aborigines.

Spring Garden Show Opens in Oakland

Visitors attending the Tenth Annual California Spring Garden Show which opened yesterday (Thursday) morning in Oakland, for four days, will see a wondrous display of orchids of many varieties, resembling birds, butterflies, spiders, moths and other insects. Few will be aware however, of the cost of the explorations that brought these exotic specimens from jungle countries where orchid hunters have gone at the risk of their lives. This was pointed out by Arthur Navlet, one of the members of the show's board of directors.

"Big game hunting in Africa has nothing on orchid hunting for thrills, perils, and possible death for those who try to wrest rare orchid plants from the jungles of South America," said Navlet.

In the California Spring Garden Show, a collection of orchids from the famed nurseries of John Carbone, Berkeley, veteran orchid grower on the Pacific Coast, will be displayed such as have never before been seen in a garden show anywhere, Navlet declared.

The landscape theme of the famous garden show is "Shangri-la," a floral interpretation of the fictional place described by James Hilton in his "Lost Horizon." More than 100,000 persons are expected to attend the garden show.

This notice is given in compliance with the demand heretofore made on said substituted trustee by said Frederick W. Norton and Frankie Z. Norton, his wife.

John Garfield Stars In D. C. Theatre Feature

'Dead End' Kids, Ann Sheridan Also Featured In Drama

The news about "They Made Me a Criminal," the Warner Brothers picture which opens at the Daly City theatre Sunday, April 30—and it's very good news indeed—is that it presents John Garfield as its co-star with the six "Dead End" kids. They head a fine cast which also includes Claude Rains, Gloria Dickson, Ann Sheridan and May Robson, and contributes some of the best dramatic entertainment in years. It is a melodramatically exciting story, laid against some unusual backgrounds, which not only holds the audience tensely interested throughout but ends with a twist that is at once genuinely surprising and sure to please everyone who sees the picture.

The production was evidently designed to answer the public demand for Garfield's elevation to stardom which arose after his memorable screen debut in the unforgettable "Four Daughters." And it serves this purpose well, for it will satisfy the most ardent admirer of the young recruit from the New York stage who thus becomes a star in his second motion picture.

At the outset of the story, Garfield is a prize fighter who has just won the world's lightweight championship, and it may be noted here that in the two fighting scenes in the picture he handles himself with a skill and assurance which indicate he might have gone on to a better than fair fighter if he had continued the ring career he essayed shortly in his youth.

Suspected of a murder he didn't commit, but unable to prove his innocence, the new champion drops out of sight and makes his way across the country as a hobo. In California he gets a job picking fruit at a desert date ranch, and he isn't there long before he falls in love with the niece of the woman who owns the place.

To raise money badly needed by the two women, he gets into the ring with a barnstorming heavyweight who is offering $500 a round to anyone who can stay with him. At the ringside that night is a detective who has traced him to this out-of-the-way place.

It would be cheating the prospective picture-goer of a pleasant thrill to disclose the eventual result of the heroic little fighter's attempt to foil the detective, so it should suffice to say it serves, in an unintended manner, to bring the story to a happy ending.

Companion feature on the new bill will be "The Duke of West Point," starring Louis Hayward and Joan Fontaine.

Gloria Dickson and John Garfield are the romantic pair in "They Made Me A Criminal," thrilling new drama opening at the Daly City theatre on Sunday, April 30.

Decadeers Announce Awards

The cash awards made this month by the Decadeers' Club, a local organization composed of ten young men, were won by Matthew Grady, Colma, first; and Robert Byrne of the Byrne Radio store, second.

The event was held at 408 Winchester street, Saturday evening.

Six out of every ten deaths occur while three out of every four cars are safely garaged for the night, reports the safety department of the National Automobile club after a survey of automobile fatalities at night. The increase in night accidents during darkness of 54.5 per cent from 1930 through 1937, points to the need of greater caution and slower speeds when driving after dark.

American Legion Schedule Convention

Plans for what promises to be the largest convention in the history of the American Legion, department of California, scheduled for Oakland, August 12 to 16, are being laid out long in advance by the convention committee. This was announced by Elmer P. Zollner, president of the committee. In a statement addressed to Post Commanders and Legion officials throughout the State, Zollner urged early reservations for the Oakland convention.

"Thousands of Legionnaires will attend this convention, who have never before gathered at a Legion conclave," Zollner said. "The World's Fair and the great program of entertainment arranged for the delegates will draw a record crowd. We had almost 20,000 at the last department convention in Oakland in 1932. We expect a big increase this year. The housing committee would appreciate the cooperation of all Legionnaires who know now that they are coming, if they will make their reservations immediately."

Hotel Oakland will be the official headquarters of the American Legion. Legion Auxiliary members will reside at the Hotel Leamington during their stay. Official headquarters for the Forty and Eight Society will be the Lake Merritt hotel and for the Eight and Forty Society, the Leamington hotel.

Auto Collision Results In Death

Mrs. A. F. Bremberg, 70, 155 Westwood drive, San Francisco, died at the Junipero Serra hospital Monday morning, and Henry Osche, 20, 1114 Munich street, San Francisco, was in a critical condition at the Villa sanitarium today, as the result of an automobile collision Sunday on the Skyline and Alemany boulevards, west of Daly City.

Mrs. Bremberg died just twelve hours after the accident. Osche sustained a fractured skull.

Other persons treated at the Villa after the accident were Rose MacDonald, 2250 East Twenty-first street, Oakland, for a broken shoulder; Eugene MacDonald, 3611 Peniman avenue, Oakland, for a broken right hand, and Mary Castagnola, 455 Chestnut street, San Francisco, for a fractured left shoulder.

Witnesses said that MacDonald, driving west on Alemany boulevard, failed to observe an arterial stop sign and his car crashed into the automobile driven by Bremberg, traveling south on Skyline boulevard.

Mrs. Bremberg's death brought the county highway death toll to 21 for this year, compared with 15 at this time a year ago.

Honor Two Cities For Good Traffic Records

Two cities of California have been honored for completing the year 1938 without a single traffic fatality and are among the 157 cities with populations between 5,000 and 10,000 to be placed on the honor roll of the National Traffic Safety contest, according to the public safety department of the National Automobile club.

Santa Maria and Piedmont were the two California cities to be named to receive certificates of commendation in recognition of their outstanding work in the traffic safety field. There were 1,163 cities and 48 states entered in various divisions of the contest, which honored 44 more cities for 1938 than for the year previous.

of LOCAL P.G. and E. PLANTS

AMPLE ELECTRICITY produced here for ALL SAN FRANCISCO

The P. G. and E. owns within the city limits four steam generating stations with an aggregate capacity of 293,000 hp. These four plants could produce more electricity than San Francisco uses even during the hours of peak demand.

But our San Francisco customers do not have to depend only upon these local plants, which are operated chiefly as "standby" reserve sources to insure adequate and continuous service at all times.

Our interconnected generating system includes 49 hydro-electric power houses and 6 other steam-operated stations, harnessed together by thousands of miles of transmission lines to serve all parts of P. G. and E. territory. Their great total capacity is a pool of supply for San Francisco's requirements.

No city has more dependable electric-power service than San Francisco.
